

Yes We are Thankful

We are thankful for so many things we do not know where to commence. We believe the home coming of our Soldier Boys is first. We are so glad that if we have not enough money to buy Turkey for Thanksgiving we have an appetite for Chicken and have them. We believe the Peter Schuttler Wagon the one best wagon sold and the Hercules Buggy the best buggy for the price. We believe the money spent for American Hog Wire will pay you over 10 per cent on your investment and we have a nice stock on hand. We are carrying a good stock of Certain-tied 3-Ply Paper Roofing. It looks good to us. Our line of Axes, Pocket Knives, Butcher Knives are the famous Keen Kutter line. Come see your humble servants.

Moths in Closets.

Get a wide-mouthed bottle, three ounces will do, and fill it with oil of mirbane. Leave the cork out of the bottle and place it in the trunk or closet in such position that it will not tip over. The fumes are very poisonous to insects. For a very large closet use a larger bottle and larger amount of oil. Renew the oil when needed. Sprinkle heavy blankets, quilts, etc., with the oil of mirbane before packing away.

Proofs of Bigness.

To disagree with the other fellow and still remain friendly; to see the other fellow's viewpoint and still cling to your own opinion with a smile that is sincere; to travel the first 50 miles in company with a crowd quietly and not tell all you know; to smile at the breakfast table and then go to work, not willingly but anxiously, proves that you are a bigger man than the ordinary fellow we find on the pay roll.—Exchange.

Importance of "Now."

"Now" is ever ticking from the clock of time. "Now" is the watchword of the wise. "Now" is on the banner of the prudent. Let us keep this little word always in our mind; and whenever anything presents itself to us in the shape of work, whether mental or physical, let us do it with all our might, remembering that now is the only time for us.—Selected.

Watch the Sun's Halos.

The sun's halos are good weather signs. Many weather proverbs based upon the observation of halos are founded upon sound scientific principles. Studies of the relation of halos to rainfall show that during the summer months 56 to 60 per cent of all halos are followed by rain within 36 hours. During the winter months 70 to 75 per cent are so followed.

American Independence.

Great Britain acknowledged the independence of the United States by a preliminary treaty of peace dated November 30, 1782, and by the final or definite treaty dated September 3, 1783. This treaty was ratified by the continental congress January 14, 1784.

Coal's Uncertain History.

The story of coal is a very uncertain one. No one seems to know when it first began to be used for fuel. All through the centuries it pops in and out of English literature as something taken for granted, and when it was finally found well in the van of the great industrial expansion of a century or more ago it occasioned no special comment.

Didn't Seem Funny to Him.

Little Augusta had never seen a bald-headed man closely until one day a friend of the family came to dinner. When we were all seated at the table Augusta looked very intently at his bald head for several minutes, then whispered in mother's ear: "Mother hasn't Mr. Reid funny, shiny, pin hair?"—Exchange.

The Brainy Bee.

The following incident testifies to the remarkable sagacity and efficiency of bees. A hive was being "spied upon" by a wasp. When wasps ascertain a hive is worth attacking they often succeed in ousting the bees. Every time the wasp approached the small entrance hole a bee came out. At hour later the wasp was dead.

Quaint Baptismal Custom.

A pretty custom is followed at baptisms in Helgoland. While a psalm is being sung, a procession of little boys and girls troop in, passing in front of the altar. Each child carries a pannikin of water, the contents of which are poured into the baptismal font.

Crocodile's Agility.

The moment that a young crocodile breaks its shell it is to all intents and purposes as active as it is at any time during its life. It will make straight for the water, even if it be out of sight and a good distance off and it will pursue its prey with eagerness and agility during the first week of its free existence.

Only Real Peace.

No peace was ever won from fate by subterfuge or argument; no peace is ever in store for any of us but that which we shall win by victory over shame or sin—victory over the sin that oppresses, as well as over that which corrupts.—Ruskin.

Some Country!

Finnegan, a railroad worker, though not he of "On again, off again" fame, returned to Ireland recently on a visit. On being questioned by his relatives concerning the wonders of America, he described its size as follows: "Thwyy, Amer-er-ica is so big that if ye war to dr-rag England through the Shitates ye wouldn't have a mar-rk in th' dirt, an' ye could lose Oireland intirely in wan o' thim gr-rat inland oceans we hov, phwat we call lakes, an' if ye had Scotland to get rid of there are a thousand carners to hide her in, an' nobody could tell phwere ye'd put her, except, begorra, for the strong smell av whisky."—Boston Transcript.

Foolish to Trust to Luck.

It's no use tackling big propositions blindly. Dumb luck may bring you out on the right side. It may also bring you out on the short side. And if it does you are bound for defeat. Blind good fortune has brought men through trials, but they are not stronger for it. It's the man who sees the trials and marshals his forces so as to bring every ounce of energy into control that wins honors on the up-grades.—Exchange.

The Windward Islands.

The Windward Islands belong to Great Britain. They consist of the islands of St. Lucia, St. Vincent and Grenada, with the smaller islands of the Grenadine chain. The islands, really, form three distinct colonies, united under a governor-in-chief, who resides at St. George's, Grenada. The Windward Islands derive their name from their position, as do also the Leeward Islands to the east, being more exposed to the trade winds than the neighboring Leeward Islands.

Durable Male Beauty.

One reason why a man doesn't look into a mirror as often as a woman does is because he has more confidence in the durability of his beauty.—Galveston News.
